

U. S. AND JAPAN COMPOSE DIFFERENCES

CONTROVERSY OVER PACIFIC ISLAND OF YAP FINALLY SETTLED

Japan Retains Administrative Control While the United States Secures the Cables and Wireless Privileges—Representatives are Preparing to Sign the Treaty Soon

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The American and Japanese governments have composed their differences over the Pacific island of Yap, and are preparing to sign a treaty by which Japan retains administrative control over the island and the United States secures the cable and wireless privileges there for which she has contended since the Paris peace conference.

In the same treaty Japan's league of nations mandate over Yap and all the other northern Pacific islands formerly under German sovereignty is given recognition by the United States on certain stipulated conditions. These conditions include provision for free admission of missionaries and protection of American interests in the mandated territory and require that Japan shall report to the United States as well as to the league on details of her administration of the mandate.

BELIEVE THAT MODIFICATION IS DANGEROUS

Think It Would Lead to Domination of Food Supply

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Modification of the packer consent decree as proposed to allow the five large packing companies to handle unrelated lines would lead, in the opinion of the federal trade commission to domination of the country's food supply by the five companies.

The views of the commission were presented by W. Y. Durant, its assistant chief economist, today to the inter-departmental board conducting hearings on the advisability of modifying the decree under which the big five packers two years ago were ordered to divorce themselves from all activities except the butchering

Bandits Loot State Bank of Panama

(By The Associated Press)
PANAMA, Ill., Dec. 12.—Pursuit of the six bandits who this morning held up and robbed the State Bank of Panama, of $51,000 in cash and bonds was given up this evening when posses lost their trail.

About $19,000 of the loot was cash, bank officials said tonight, adding that the total loss was covered by insurance.

Jack Williams, a witness who was shot in the month by bandits, is not seriously wounded, it is reported.

Williams, who did not know of the robbery, was driving his car back of the bandits who, it is believed, thought he was pursuing them when they fired at him.

He is recovering from his wounds.

MEMBERS OF DAIL EIREANN DIVIDED ON PEACE TREATY

Believe Ireland Bound to Stand by Agreement

(By The Associated Press)
DUBLIN, Dec. 12.—The division of opinion among members of the Dail Eireann is not limited to the question of approval or disapproval of the treaty with Great Britain signed in London last week.

Some Sinn Fein leaders who think the treaty is a good one agree with Eamon DeValera, the Sinn Fein president in believing that it embodies such a departure from the policy previously submitted to the South Ireland electors that it cannot be accepted without a direct fresh mandate from the various constituency.

The Irish newspapers in London generally urge that since the delegates to the London conference were plenipotentiaries, Ireland is bound to stand by their action but some journals hold the view that the powers of the delegates were limited by the understanding that any treaty they might negotiate should come before the Dail for ratification.

Sinn Fein observers today pointed out that it would be difficult to refer the matter to the country in view of the fact that the scheme of elections in South Ireland is one of proportional representation on a basis unsuitable for deciding such direct issues.

Throughout today's informal discussions at the mansion house, it was evident that the personal relations of the leaders who oppose each other continue to be most friendly.

One of the strongest supporters of the treaty among the clergy is Bishop Fogarty of Killarney, in Mr. DeValera's constituency, who for a long time has been a trustee of Sinn Fein funds. None of these have attempted to estimate the number less than forty and in some quarters it is forecast that if a division should occur the vote will probably be close.

ROY GARDNER IS GIVEN 25 YEARS

(By The Associated Press)
PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 12.—Roy Gardner, twice convicted mail robber whose trial here on a charge of robbing a mail car at Maricopa, Ariz., resulted in a hung jury yesterday, pleaded guilty today in the United States district court to a charge of attempting to rob a mail car here and assaulting a mail clerk in charge of the car.

Judge William H. Sawtelle immediately sentenced Gardner to 25 years in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kans.

It is understood the prison authorities will be requested to have an operation performed on Gardner's skull to remove the pressure which the defense claims caused Gardner to commit his crimes.

Gardner now faces a total of 75 years imprisonment for sentences imposed upon him for robberies of the mails.

Gardner promised the court that he would not attempt to escape from his guard when they take him to prison.

Thomas A. Flynn, United States district attorney formally dismissed the charge against Gardner of robbing a mail car at Maricopa, Ariz., on Nov. 3. It was on this charge that the jury disagreed regarding Gardner's guilt.

MAIL ROBBER SUSPECT IS HELD IN $50,000 BOND IN NEW YORK

Accused of Stealing Mail Sacks Valued at $2,000,000

(By The Associated Press)
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Dec. 12.—The first suspect arrested in connection with New York's $24,000,000 mail robbery October 24 today was held in $50,000 bail for a hearing next Monday. In default of bail he was sent to the Essex County jail in New York.

The suspect was Frank Calabrese, a Hoboken taxi driver and hackman, whose arrest on suspicion more than a month ago did not become known until the county authorities pressed federal agents for prosecution with the implied warning that the suspect might be turned loose otherwise.

Consequently, Calabrese this afternoon was held before United States Commissioner Queen. The complaint made by Postal Inspector Joseph S. V. Visk of New York charged Calabrese with stealing mail from a mail truck being driven on Lower Broadway by Frank Novick.

According to the postal authorities, Haverick identified the suspect after he had put on a pair of glasses. Calabrese protested his innocence and asserted he could establish an alibi.

Postal inspectors have worked incessantly on the case which so aroused Postmaster General Hays that he started an investigation that resulted in mailmen being detailed to guard the mails.

Calabrese was picked up in Jersey City on November 2 by the police on suspicion. He had just arrived from Newark in a motor car with another man whom he said was a taxi-passenger. Believing that his machine tallied with the description of the motor car occupied by the mail bandits the police got in touch with the postal authorities.

The latter sought to keep the arrest a secret lest other trails be lost. It was learned that they had received an anonymous letter purporting to connect Calabrese with the crime and that they had grilled two women of his acquaintance. These women later were exonerated of any connection with the crime.

SENATE GETS FIRST TASTE OF FIGHT ON PACIFIC TREATY

Senators Borah and Reed Do Most of the Talking

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The senate got its first taste today of the fight promised by several senators on the new four-power Pacific treaty.

The pact was both denounced and defended in the course of two hours of discussion. As at the opening of the long fight on the treaty of Versailles and its league of nations, covenant, practically all of the new quadruple treaty was read into the congressional record in advance of formal submission.

The attack today came from two "irreconcilables" in the Versailles covenant controversy, Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho and Reed, Democrat, Missouri.

Breaking the silence, he had maintained since the treaty was laid before the world, Mr. Borah spoke more than an hour, devoting his attention to "Article Two" of the new treaty, which he compared to Article Ten of the Versailles covenant. He declared that the treaty compelled the armament conference to "make real disarmament," an actually or make the treaty a "straight out military alliance."

Mr. Borah explained his attitude toward the treaty would be governed to an extent by progress of the conference toward "real disarmament" and settlement of the Washington conference, he said would be "discouraging." If it adjourned without having, by terms of the treaty, the use of submarines, poisonous gases and other barbarous weapons of warfare.

Pointexter Defends Pact

Defense of the pact conducted largely by Senator Pointexter, Republican, Washington, resulted in the opening of the whole question of what obligations were entailed upon the United States by the new agreement.

Senator Pointexter told the senate that some seemed unduly alarmed by the pact and declared that "Article Two" could not be construed as the equivalent of Article Ten.

Senator Reed, breaking into the debate at this point, said Senator Pointexter's statement meant that the new treaty was worth little as a binding agreement. He added that if the United States was not going to observe its moral obligations such as he contended were contained in the treaty the country would become "the laughing stock of the whole world."

Mr. Borah said he regarded the moral obligations of Article Two as compelling the use of force as strongly as did article ten of the league and in this he was supported by Senator Robinson, Democrat, of Arkansas, who declared that taken together, Articles One and Two of the treaty were "even stronger" than Article Ten.

Mr. Robinson added, however, that he was entering no objection to the pact.

"In the language of Napoleon," Senator Stanley, Democrat, Kentucky, interrupted, "these four powers intend to have peace under the treaty even if they have to fight it."

The work of Secretary Hughes in presentation of the American naval reduction program was commended by Mr. Borah who said that by "the concise and bold" methods employed by the state department head, he had won the right to be placed "among the great premiers and secretaries of state in history."

The program of naval reduction was described by Mr. Borah as worthy of praise but he added that the conference, so far as the public has been informed has not dealt with the weapons with which the next war will be fought.

FLOOD CAUSES LOSS OF LIFE

(By The Associated Press)
SEATTLE, Wn., Dec. 12.—The worst flood in years held sway in Western Washington tonight. Ten persons are known to have been killed, a number are injured and heavy property damage has been done by railroad accidents and landslides due to the water.

Heavy rains, starting Saturday and continuing to the present have sent rivers out of their banks, washed out bridges, torn thru railroad embankments and interrupted rail and wire communication in many directions.

Warm weather snow water from the hills. At Stampede, the highest point on the Pacific Line the thermometer registered 70 degrees today.

Inundation of a large area was feared as a result of a jam of floats behind the wreckage of a Northern Pacific train in Miller river. Two lives were lost when the train plunged thru the bridge weakened by the floods. Near Aberdeen four persons were killed and several injured in two logging railway accidents, caused by landslides.

A blanket, clothing and instruments covered with blood were produced by the state in proving a corpus delicti. Two physicians testified that the blood was that of a human being.

Detective Sergeant James A. McCarthy, who arrested Church at Adams, Wis., was prevented today from testifying to any statements or confessions made to him by the defendant. On motion of the defense the jury was excluded from the room while the admissibility of the testimony was threshed out.

TOMMY O'CONNOR NOTORIOUS GUNMAN IS STILL AT LARGE

Made His Getaway Sunday—Officials Believe That it Was "Inside Job"—Rewards Totalling $3,000 Offered for His Capture

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—"Lucky Tommy" O'Connor, sentenced to hang Thursday, and two companions, who broke jail with him yesterday with a start of 36 hours, tonight had apparently eluded the pursuit of hundreds of policemen and detectives organized in one of the greatest man hunts in Chicago's history.

With rewards totalling $3,000 offered for his capture, policemen and detectives under orders to "shoot to kill" today were kept on the run investigating dozens of fruitless "tips." Half a dozen times rifle squads were hustled to various sections of the city where it was reported he had been seen.

From other cities and towns within a radius of 300 miles came reports that "Terrible Tommy" had been seen there, making him appear as ubiquitous as the police say he is desperate.

While practically the entire police department of 5,000 men were hunting Chicago and adjacent territory for O'Connor whose death sentence was given for the slaying of a policeman, three separate investigations were under way to fix responsibility for escape. Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney today continued an inquiry started yesterday while Sheriff Charles Peters and Chief of Police Fitzmorris each instituted separate inquiries.

After several houses and one hotel here had been surrounded and searched by detectives with drawn revolvers, reports came in late today that a man answering O'Connor's description had sent a telegram from Peoria, Ill. to Mrs. Mary Foley of Chicago, O'Connor's sister, stating that he would "be home for Christmas, maybe."

The detective bureau here after an investigation announced that O'Connor was not near Peoria.

Earlier in the day O'Connor had been reported near Detroit, where three men, one answering his description, had abandoned an automobile.

Charles Wharton, assistant state's attorney, announced tonight that two prisoners had implicated David Straus, the first guard attacked by the jail breakers, in the escape.

According to Mr. Wharton, the two prisoners said they overheard conversation between Edward Darrow, companion of O'Connor in his flight, and another prisoner, in which it was asserted that Straus "had everything ready."

Straus is being held.

Canford Rosenbaum was arrested by police today and questioned after it had been reported that he was an accomplice of O'Connor. Rosenbaum, it was asserted, had had recent conferences with Jailer Lawrence. Rosenbaum denied he knew O'Connor. Petitions for writs of habeas corpus and for his release and the release of "Darling Dave" O'Connor, Tommy's brother, were filed this afternoon.

Says He Was Let Out

Chief of Police Fitzmorris today reiterated his statement of yesterday that "O'Connor did not escape; he was let out."

SENATE VOTES MILLION FOR HOSPITAL SERVICE

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Told off by Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, that hundreds of former service men were dying of tuberculosis "in the deserts of Arizona," where they went seeking a cure for disabilities resulting from gas attacks of the senate tonight voted an appropriation of a million dollars for additional hospitalization. The funds which are carried in the first deficiency bill passed by the senate would be expended by the Veterans Bureau.

He had "beseeched" the senate appropriations committee, he said, to relieve the sufferings of an appropriation of $1,000,000 for American participation in an exposition in Brazil," has refused.

Chairman Warren asserted to the committee that it had carefully considered the latter and had been assured that proper relief measures would be promptly adopted.

Former service men, he claimed, were flocking to Arizona, under the belief that the climate would aid them to recover from tuberculosis and the effects of gassing. Present hospital facilities are overtaxed, he stated, and quoted "a high treasury official" as declaring "that if a thousand were dying there I would not send one cent for hospitalization in Arizona."

The senator explained that the government takes the position that the men must go to the hospitals designated for their treatment. The men will not follow these instructions, he asserted, although the government offers to pay their transportation.

"Hundreds of men are being neglected on the ground that they are not in the hospitals," he said.

NAVAL EXPERTS ARE SCRAPPED BY CONFERENCE

Would Expedite Action on Limitation of Navies

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—New machinery to expedite final action on naval limitation agreements, was set up today by the arms conference. At the suggestion of the American group, the former committee of experts was "scrapped" in favor of a "committee of fifteen" including both plenipotentiaries and civil and naval experts of the five powers. The whole subject of naval limitations, including the cornerstone "five-five-three" ratio was turned over to the new committee to be put in final shape for the conference.

Meanwhile it became known that the Japanese delegation had received instructions from Tokyo regarding the "five-five-three" ratio. The nature of the communication was not disclosed. There were many indications, however, that it marked a long stride toward final acceptance of this vital point in the naval limitation project.

The committee of fifteen, was described by a British spokesman as a means to "short circuit" delays unavoidable in the previous division of labor between committees of delegates and separate committees of naval experts. The new committee will be able to reach decisions as to direct recommendations to the conference. Several steps will be eliminated to save time. No other official or semi-official explanation was given.

A government bureau has announced that ex-service men may re-instate their insurance any time before March, 1922. This means an extension of four years of grace for the ex-service man who by any chance may have dropped his insurance. The provision is considerable and liberal but not any more so than the facts and conditions warrant.

Secretary Wallace, in his annual report, expresses the belief that the worst is over for the farmers and that better prices are to prevail for grain and livestock. The secretary of agriculture does not look for sensational prices but does believe that the prices will be high enough and stable enough to cause some reaction in the price of land.

The name of Miss Jane Addams is almost one to conjure with, but nevertheless it is possible that she and others associated with her were over-enthusiastic in passing a resolution condemning the new four-nation pact. Their demand is for complete world disarmament and the inclusion in the agreement of all the nations of the world.

It would be a great thing to have such statements in effect, but many close students of the world peace problem do not believe that any such broad theory of disarmament and peace can be put into effect at one stroke. With certain nations the days of peace and disarmament must be preceded by a period of education.

Financiers see as a possibility of the near future investment of American millions abroad. They express the belief that investors will soon be hurrying their money across for old world investments because of the changing conditions of foreign exchange and the present chance there is of making advantageous old world investments.

Certainly that can be taken as an indication of improvement of general business conditions. If American capital is seeking investments abroad even those who know little about either national or international finance can understand how such investments will improve general business conditions.

A REAL SACRIFICE

Many touching stories are coming to this country concerning the unselfishness of the children of the Junior Red Cross of Czechoslovakia.

Perhaps it is because these children have so little to give that they find such happiness in the luxury of giving. The children of Czechoslovakia found so much happiness in playing health games and in doing the many things which the representatives of the Junior American Red Cross suggested for their benefit, that they organized a Junior Red Cross of their own last spring and now they are engaged in doing their utmost to relieve the suffering of the children of Russia.

A few months after the Czech Juniors were organized, they launched their effort to provide food and clothing for the ragged and hungry children of Russia, an effort which calls, among other things, for doing without all fats one day in each week in order to save this important food element to be sent to those more hungry than themselves. The representative of the Junior American Red Cross was greatly impressed by the seriousness of the Czech children when she went to her office in Prague one morning to begin her day's work. Standing before the door was a bedraggled little child whose moist fists clutched 600 dirty Czech kronen. These the child presented with many flutterings of excitement, and the announcement that the money had been raised for Russian refugee children by means of a small entertainment given by the girls and boys in a neighboring orphanage. Those parentless children had caught the spirit of the Junior Red Cross and although their means were pitifully small they were not to be denied the joy of unselfish service for others.

THE HOPEFUL OUTLOOK

The Henry Clevs Review sums up the business indications of the past week in the following way: "Events during the past week, both nationally and internationally speaking, have been of first class importance, not only from their political, but from their general economic point of view. The settlement of the Irish question, the partial agreement to readjust the German reparations plan, the settlement of some at least of the issues by which it has been confronted, and the President's outspoken and constructive position on important business questions in his message to congress have all furnished helpful factors which have tended to stabilize business and investments."

The report of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, taken in conjunction with the more guarded language used by President Harding, seems to make it clear that in the comparatively early future further revision of the tax laws will be demanded. The Secretary of the Treasury forcefully calls attention to the harm wrought by present surtax rates and by other phases of existing taxation, and puts to flight the idea that these measures can be considered as weighing with special force upon the wealthier elements in the population. They in fact work against them more strongly than they do against the poorer upon whom they are technically levied. There is no assurance as to when Congress will be induced to revise its work upon this score, but such action cannot be indefinitely delayed. As to the President's proposals respecting the suspension of the issue of tax exempt bonds, they are in line with the policy already favored by careful students of the situation.

BEE CASE ON TRIAL

Judge E. S. Smith reconvened the circuit court Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The trial of J. W. Bowen against Thomas R. McGinnis was begun. The suit originated over a shipment of bees. It is maintained by the complainant that the bees were injured when the box or hive in which they were being transported by ferry across the Illinois river at Meredosia, was dropped in the water. Mr. McGinnis operates a ferry at Meredosia. The complainant is represented by W. E. Thompson and A. C. Williams of Pittsfield, is attorney for Mr. McGinnis.

SELLING RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS

The Anti-Tuberculosis society has begun the annual sale of Red Cross Christmas seals. It was the intention of the committee to have the sale this year because of solicitation made on the organization through the United Budget campaign. However, the fund to be received through that campaign is not as large as anticipated and the money thus raised will not be sufficient for meeting the expenses of the league. For this reason the committee has decided to proceed with the sale and the usual form of solicitation will be followed.

INCOME TAX LAW CHANGES EXPLAINED

Statement About Revenue Act By Collector Schwaner.

G. W. Schwaner, collector of Internal Revenue, has issued the following statement with reference to the new income tax laws.

"Enactment of new revenue legislation has brought to the offices of Collectors of Internal Revenue a flood of inquiries regarding various provisions. The Revenue Act of 1921 became effective November 23, 1921, unless otherwise provided for."

"To avoid error in the preparation of their returns and later difficulties with the Bureau of Internal Revenue, taxpayers are advised to carefully note the changes and when they become effective."

"The excess profits tax is repealed as of January 1, 1922. The rates for 1921 are unchanged."

"The surtax rates for the calendar year 1921 are unchanged and range from 1 per cent on the amount of net income between $5,000 and $6,000 to 65 per cent on the amount of net income in excess of $100,000. For the calendar year 1922 the surtax rates range from 1 per cent on the amount of net income between $5,000 and $10,000 to 50 per cent on the amount by which the net income exceeds $200,000."

"The exemption allowed for a dependent is increased from $200 to $400. Married persons living with husband or wife, are allowed an exemption of $1,000. Non-resident aliens are allowed a single personal exemption of $1,000. Persons having gross incomes for 1921 of $5,000 or over are required to make a return, regardless of the amount of net income."

"Provision is made for the repeal as of January 1, 1922 of the tax on stockholders of a personal service corporation as such. After that date such corporations are to be taxed in the same manner as other corporations."

"The income tax on corporations for the calendar year 1922 and thereafter is increased from 12 to 15 per cent. The $2,000 exemption heretofore allowed corporations is to be granted only to those corporations whose net income is $25,000 or less."

"Many persons are under the impression that the taxes on ice cream, soft drinks, etc., monthly returns of which are required, have been repealed with the enactment of the new act. These taxes remain in force until the end of the calendar year, 1921."

"No change is made in the tax on admissions, except that after January 1, 1922, there will be no tax where admission is 10 cents or less. Effective January 1, 1922, the following taxes are also abolished: on musical instruments, sporting goods, chewing gum, portable electric fans, thermos bottles, fur articles, pleasure boats and pleasure canoes (unless sold for more than $100) toilet articles, medicines and numerous articles of apparel."

"On and after January 1, 1922, the tax on various works of art is reduced from 10 per cent to 5 per cent; the tax on candy from 5 per cent to 3 per cent and the tax on carpets, rugs, trunks, valises, purses, fans, etc. from 10 per cent of sales in excess of specified amounts to 5 per cent of sales price in excess of specified amounts."

"The tax on parcel post packages is eliminated effective January 1, 1922."

"The new act provides that no taxpayer shall be subjected to unnecessary examinations or investigations, and only one inspection of his books of accounts shall be made for each taxable year unless the taxpayer requests otherwise, or the Commissioner notifies the taxpayer in writing that an additional inspection is necessary."

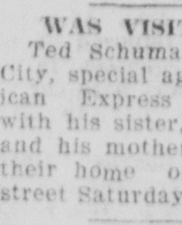

"The period for filing returns on the calendar year basis is from January 1 to March 15, 1922. This year, as last, the tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15."

"Copies of the revenue act may be had by application to the collector's office."

The remarkable story of a girl lured by the flame of Free Love—Fluttering about the fascinating light without a thought that her beautiful wings might be singed. The Free Love doctrine is being spread today especially from the Bohemian quarters of the great cities. It is painted as a beautiful ideal; marriage as unromantic, sordid—sometimes by theorists, more often by men with a motive. BUT what of the young girls enticed by its glittering flare? What of them? Every one of you will want to know how it works out in real life.

After Your Own Heart

The Tale of a Modern Ranch Owner Whose Cowboys Used Airplanes and Autos in Place of Bronchos

Luke Bramley, owner of the Double Bit Ranch, had no use for new and improved methods in cattle raising. What had been good enough for his father was good enough for him. He could not be swayed from this attitude, even by his pretty daughter, Loretta; and he was seconded by his foreman, Tex Marole—a crook who had secret reasons of his own and an evil admiration for Loretta.

A source of constant exasperation to Bramley was the adjoining Rolling G Ranch, which was run on up-to-date lines, with advantage taken of every new device supplied by science for the betterment of the business. The foreman, Peter Rudock, maneuvered about over the territory in an airplane. The cowboys, instead of being mounted on horses, dashed about in autos. The contrast in methods and results was as striking as was the difference in the men and the cattle.

But the sorest point with Bramley was a valued water hole to which both ranches advanced a claim, but which Bramley swore should not be invaded by electric wires of the Rolling G. This was a point of continual conflict.

FINE PROGRAM WAS GIVEN AT WINCHESTER

High School Dramatic Club Presents "The Revue of Fun" Monday Evening—Funeral of Vivian Sturgeon—Other News From Winchester.

Winchester, Dec. 12.—The high school dramatic club presented "The Revue of Fun" at the Lyric theater Monday evening before a very large audience. The entertainment was given under the direction of Mrs. Louise Cunningham and the success of the evening was due in large measure to her excellent training. The club had the assistance of the high school orchestra under the direction of Prof. Waters and the male sextette with Miss Bess Pieper as accompanist also had a prominent part in the program. There were about thirty-five who took part and all did exceedingly well.

The entertainment was in two acts, the first scene being in Union station while the second was that of a vaudeville theater in a modern city. The program was as follows:

Glee club chorus.
Edith Claspur, daintiest of dancers—Virginia Hainsfurther.
Peggy Rogers in famous impersonations of Mrs. Hale at the football game—Nell Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Jangle in their latest wrangle, a comedy—Eva Hammond and Russell Dahman.

Jack Gordon, supported by Richard Irving and company of 18 beautiful girls in sketch, "The Ideal Girl," (written by three members of the dramatic club).
Jack Gordon—Stanley Simmons.

Richard Irving—Ronald Henry. Scene—Domestic science room in the Winchester high school. Jack Gordon searching for the ideal girl; Richard Irving as the chef.

Funeral of Vivian Sturgeon. The funeral of Vivian Sturgeon which was held at the Methodist church Monday afternoon was largely attended. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Smith and Miss Louise Frost. Rev. Carl Corrie, pastor of the M. E. church, delivered the funeral sermon.

The many and beautiful floral tributes were in charge of Misses Lois Coultas, Dorothy Reynolds, Madeline Drew, Alma Corey, Norma Thady and Lucille Lakin of Manchester.

Interment was made in the Winchester cemetery, the pall bearers being Ezelle and Henry Cox, Louis King, Kenneth Drew, Robert Reynolds and Clarence Green.

The death of Miss Sturgeon came as a great shock to many in the community, for although her friends knew of her illness few realized that the end was so near. The deceased was possessed of a sunny disposition which endeared her to all who knew her. She took great interest in her home, the church and the school and her presence in all these places will be greatly missed. The deceased was a member of the Methodist church and was active in various lines of church work. She was a member of the freshmen class at the high school and the school was closed during the funeral hour.

Among those here to attend the funeral were Edward Sturgeon and wife of Jacksonville, Boyd Sturgeon and wife, Springfield; Mrs. Sturgeon and daughter, Jacksonville.

News Notes
Mrs. E. J. Frost and daughter, Miss Louise, returned Monday from a visit in St. Louis.

Misses Louise Dawson and Helen Kinison who have been ill at Manchester for the past week, were brought home Monday, and while not able to resume their teaching duties, are improving. They were accompanied home by Mrs. W. H. Kinison, who has been in Manchester assisting in their care for the past week.

A. J. Harding of White Hall was a business visitor in Winchester Monday.

out the front door," Chief Fitzmorris said.

Jail officials today indicated that the wholesale discharges of guards may be expected soon. Sheriff Peters announced that indications point to the fact that someone in the jail "was in league with O'Connor."

Attorney Thomas Swanson, counsel for O'Connor, today appeared before Judge Kickman Scanlan and announced that he desired to withdraw counsel. Judge Scanlan said he would announce his decision tomorrow.

Lloyd Heth, assistant state attorney who prosecuted O'Connor, today said that if O'Connor were not captured by Thursday he would ask the court to prolong the day of execution.

Opinion at the detective bureau on the question of whether or not O'Connor had not left Chicago was about equally divided. Many asserted that they believed he was still hiding in the "bad lands" of the South Side, whence he escaped months ago after standing off several officers, killing one and commandeering an automobile.

It was a long time after this escape before the desperate "Two Gun" fighter, for fear of whom several policemen were discharged for cowardice, was kicked and disarmed by a negro porter at St. Paul and captured by some track workmen. It was reported today that an offer of $5,000 had been made to get him freed at St. Paul before he was returned to Chicago for trial.

A thousand dollars reward for O'Connor's capture was offered today by the county commissioners, another thousand by the city council, $500 by Sheriff Peters and $500 by a newspaper. The county commissioners also appointed a committee to investigate his escape.

FOREIGN DEBT FUNDING BILL IS DELAYED

Objections by Secretary Mellon Cause of Delay

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Objection by Secretary Mellon to the provisions in the foreign debt funding bill, resulted today in delaying the formal presentation of the measure to the senate. Mr. Mellon's objections were heard at length by the senate finance committee but no decision was reached.

Chairman Penrose said the measure probably would be called up tomorrow in the senate as had been planned. The treasury secretary's objections were said to have been based upon the general round that the provision as written would handicap the administration in its funding negotiations with the debtor nations.

Senator Penrose said the secretary had agreed to the amended bill last Saturday with "reluctance" and after further consideration had decided to make objection to one feature. He indicated that Mr. Mellon had not specifically opposed provisions for the

MINISTER IS TRUE PROPHET OF TODAY

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—The true prophet of today and the man upon whom everything else depends, is the minister of the gospel, Rev. J. S. Dancy of the Court Street Methodist church, Rockford, Ill., told Methodist ministers attending an executive session here today. Rev. Mr. Dancy gave a brief resume of the false and true prophets of the Old Testament and then turned his remarks to conditions of today.

The false prophet of this day is the institution—the organization, he declared.

"The falsehood arises from the fact that the organization gets supreme and the individual is lost before its power. Without the minister who gives the truth of salvation and about whom everything revolves, it is lifeless."

URGE ADDITIONAL TARIFF ON GRASS AND FIBRE RUGS

Representatives of Jap Rug Makers Oppose Tariff

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Additional tariff protection for the American grass and fibre making and flax growing industries was urged and opposed today before the senate finance committee.

H. H. Danneberg, of New York City, speaking for the rug manufacturers declared that the American market was being flooded with Japanese grass and fibre rugs under a low tariff with the result that the American industry was being seriously injured. They said American rugs and twice the durability of the imported articles but that the two were so similar in appearance that buyers could scarcely distinguish between the two and naturally were attracted by the cheaper price of the Japanese product.

They asked for a rate of 36 cents per square yard on imported grass and fibre rugs.

Opposing any increase in the tariff duties on these rugs, J. M. McDonald of New York City representing the Association of Importers and Distributors of Japanese floor coverings, declared that the importation of these articles was a steadily decreasing business and that at half the duties asked by the American makers no foreign grass and fibre rugs would come into the country.

"They talk protection and ask prohibition," he said.

There were indications however, that the new step was based upon an informal communication from the Japanese delegation that Japan stood ready to accept the "five-five-three" ratio subject to certain modifications in detail of the American proposal. It appeared likely that it would become the business of the committee of fifteen to write into committee form, for signature by all five powers, the definite agreement based on the "five-five-three" proposal but carried out in detail.

If this proves to be the case, the new committee will seek a solution of each phase of the naval reduction, and limitation plan as it arises, framing its conclusions into sections of the proposed treaty. The new steps thrown into prominence for the first time in the conference, the question of the French and Italian place in the naval ratio, must be worked out by the "committee of fifteen."

Spokesmen for Italy said she was willing to stop where she is in naval strength, provided she was allowed equality with France in ratio. The attitude of the French group on this point was not disclosed and the British spokesmen declared that Great Britain must consider the place of the French and Italians, as following, in general, "the five-five-three" ratio agreement between the other three powers.

Another point was particularly stressed by all British spokesmen. That was the firm conviction that submarines should be entirely abolished as naval weapons. It was asserted, however, that British acceptance of the "five-five-three" ratio was in no sense conditional upon such action. Great Britain does hope, however, her spokesmen said, for a chance "to state her case to the world," as to submarines, before a plenary session of the conference.

and the handling of meat and similar products.

Armed with a mass of data Mr. Durant declared he appeared to present an economic study of conditions showing the menace of packer control of the wholesale grocery business of the country. He declared that the recent decree had failed of its purpose of restoring competition in the handling of foodstuffs, as the packers were still permitted to deal in some lines and he asserted modification would enable them "to attain their goal," of domination of all the food placed on the American table.

Investigation by the federal commission of the packers' business, prior to the decree, Mr. Durant declared, established that the packers were seeking control of the country's grocery business because when meat prices were higher people turned to substitute foods and packers wished to control the substitute foods in order to maintain meat prices.

The federal trade commission contended the attorney general could not recommend modification of the decree as it would destroy the principle of competing in the handling of foodstuffs.

If it were felt upon investigation that a limited monopoly of the country's food distribution was economically sound, he added recommendation for modification should still be withheld as that, he said, was a subject for congressional legislation and not court action.

Hearings of the committee prior to the appearance of Mr. Durant were enlivened today by charges that star chamber methods were being employed by the committee.

The charges were made by Manning Sires, attorney of New York, but after denial by Chairman Calloway and Judge B. T. Hainer, department of agriculture representative on the committee were withdrawn by Mr. Sires as applied to the committee.

and counter proposals for compromise. At first the Japanese government sought to invoke a Japanese law prohibiting the landing of foreign cables on Japanese soil, but that objection was withdrawn when the United States insisted that Yap was not a possession of the Tokyo government but only was under its trusteeship.

Final instructions to the Japanese delegates to accept the latest American proposal for a settlement are understood to have been received from the Tokyo foreign office last night. The treaty is virtually in final form but no date for its signature has been fixed.

OVER $200,000,000 REQUIRED TO PAY OFF RAILROADS

Report is Sent by Director Davis to the Senate

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Final payments to railroads by the government on claims and adjustments arising out of war-time control, are estimated to require $243,042,000, according to a report sent by Director General of Railroads Davis to the senate today in response to a resolution introduced by Senator LaFollette, republican, Wisconsin. At the same time, he said that the administration had available cash credits with the treasury of $152,280,000 for use in the settlements and likewise holds much larger sums in securities.

Director Davis, however, refused to report on a section of the LaFollette resolution which requested details and items of the settlements made with individual roads.

"It is submitted that presenting the information asked for would hinder and delay the progress of the work of the railroad administration," the report said on this point, "and prevent expedition in final liquidation of these matters and I am instructed by the president to respectfully submit that it is against public interest to furnish same other than is presented in this report."

From its institution in 1918 to Dec. 1, Mr. Davis said, the central railroad administration had received $2,478,825,720, this being exclusive of the revenues of the railroads through their own offices.

BOTH SIDES ARE FIRM IN STRIKE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—The second week of the strike of packing house workers opened today with both sides standing firm and less change in the situation than on any day since the strike started, except Sunday.

The anticipation of a strike sympathizers that large numbers of workmen of allied industries in the packing plants would join in a sympathetic strike apparently had failed to materialize except in sporadic walkouts.

Reports that members of the packing house teamsters' union intended to join the strike were denied by George Golden, secretary and officers of the packing plants denied that large numbers of car repairmen in the stock yards district had walked out.

Cornelius Hayes, international president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen of North America, which called the strike, said there was no change in the situation today so far as the union was concerned. The strike was practically 100 per cent effective, he asserted, and said there could be no change.

Spokesmen for the packers said the only change in their plans was for the better and asserted that more help was available than was needed. No disorders were reported here and little change was reported in the situation in other centers.

MAN OF MANY WIVES BEING TRIED

(By The Associated Press)
PEORIA, Ill., Dec. 12.—The trial of Jasper Smith, alias Newton J. Osborne, alleged bigamist, who is said to have had five wives, was begun this afternoon. The case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow.

Mrs. Alma Blair Eby, wife No. 4, who unmasked Smith's many alleged romances, related the story of her discoveries this afternoon on the witness stand. Another witness was Carl G. Osborne, Smith's youthful son by Mrs. Myrtle Childers Osborne of Spring Valley, Ohio, who identified Smith as the man he had always known as his father.

After his marriage to Myrtle Childers, Smith is alleged to have run away with her sister, Mrs. J. G. Riens. Last June 23, he is alleged to have married Agnes Oberstetter in Chicago.

CHIROPRACTORS START LEGAL WAR AGAINST STATE

Will Try to Force Naming of Examining Board

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 12.—Unlicensed chiropractors of Illinois started legal war on W. H. Miller, director of the state department of registration and education here today, when Mary E. Davenport, chiropractor, 804 South Michigan avenue, Chicago, filed suit in the Sangamon county circuit court to compel appointment of a chiropractors' examining board, which it is alleged, is provided for in the civil administrative code.

"We have a clear legal right," Dr. Davenport said, "and we intend to obtain it."

Chiropractors all over the state said, have qualified themselves to practice their profession but have been prevented by the state department of registration and education.

The complaint alleges "that any provision of statute compelling her to submit to an examination by five reputable physicians licensed to practice medicine and surgery, is unreasonable, unjust, arbitrary discrimination against your oratrix by reason of the qualifications of said physicians and surgeons."

Doctor Davenport announced that the unlicensed chiropractors of Illinois have a fund, and intend to fight the case through all the state courts, if necessary.

ROUTINE BUSINESS BEFORE CITY COUNCIL

Use of City Scales Abandoned for Present — May Change City Hall Heating Plan—Wood Pile Project Not Feasible.

The Monday night session of the city council was brief. Mayor Crabtree, City Clerk Scott and all the aldermen were present. After routine business had been given attention, the question of repairing or renewing the city scales was brought to notice by Alderman Loneragan of the public improvement committee.

H. J. Steidly of Fairbanks-Morse & Co., was present and explained that needed repairs for the scales will cost about $200, and new scales of the kind now in use about $550. There was some consideration of the question and mention was made of the fact that the bulk of the city's own coal does not now pass over the scales.

Alderman Loneragan and some other councilmen expressed the belief that the city should maintain scales for the benefit of the public, as a great many purchases are made with the understanding that the weighing will be done on the city scales. However, on account of shortage of money it was decided to abandon the use of the scales for the present.

The decision to postpone action with reference to scales was made on motion of Alderman Williamson with a second by Alderman McGinnis.

Walter Huff, who drives an oil truck for the W. H. Coking Co., asked permission to head the oil truck east along the curb in front of the Andre & Andre store while unloading fuel oil there. The matter was referred to the chief of police because of its relation to traffic.

Mayor Crabtree spoke briefly of the city planning commission which is in operation in Decatur, and said that he would investigate the state law on the question further before making any definite recommendations.

CHURCH HAS ROLE AS COMMUNITY BUILDER

Arthur H. Armstrong Made Informing Address at Community Forum — Told of Effective Church Organization Work in St. Louis

"The Church as a Community Builder" was the theme of Arthur H. Armstrong at the Congregational church forum Sunday evening. Mr. Armstrong is secretary of the federated church of St. Louis. In the beginning he asked the audience the question, "Are you expecting the church to build the community or are you hoping to have the community build your church?"

The speaker, in part, said: "The real goal of the community is to have it secure the highest expression of the individual. Communities may be classed as neighborhoods, sections, districts, regions, states, national and then international. Purpose, plans and materials all have their place in the building of a community, just as in the erection of a building. The community has six principal needs, which include righteousness, health, education, work and recreation.

"You cannot build civilization on profit only. Business and labor control the tools, but there must be educational thought and righteousness in the organization of a community. We learn with passing years the truth of Christ's teaching that love is the basic thing in the community and in all life and so even the economists of today teach us that the sermon on the mount brought out the right spirit.

Mass Movement Today

"In the earlier days people lived much more to themselves. Our ancestors raised all the food that they consumed and manufactured their own clothing and for members of their house holds. Now they are done in mass movements rather than in families, and so social obligations and relationships have changed. It was as a result of mass movement that the United States decided upon the war and it was mass movement which made the selective service act effective."

The speaker then explained something of the operation of the St. Louis federation of churches. An office with a force of eight or ten persons is maintained, a training school for Sunday school teachers is operated and the philanthropic activities of the church are worked out through the combined churches.

Incidents were cited to show the effective work of the churches in St. Louis in settling problems of social service. The purpose of the argument was to show that in the complex social conditions of the day that no organization as the church, and that the duty of leadership in teachings the world what Christianity means—what Christ came into the world for—is the duty of the church.

J. H. Danskin Among Illinoisans in Attendance at National Anti-Saloon League Convention.

J. H. Danskin was one of the 20 Illinois anti-Saloon league workers who attended the convention held in Washington recently. The various parts of the country were well represented and the program was one of even more than national interest. Among the speakers were William J. Bryan, Congressman Volstead, Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, former Senator L. Y. Sherman and A. H. Roberts, member of the Illinois legislature, in addition to the officers of the league.

On Sunday night representatives of the league filled the pulpits of the Washington churches. Mr. Danskin spoke at the Lincoln Road M. E. church and had for his theme "Three Things to Prove." The convention was accounted as one of the most profitable and successful in the history of the league.

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN PASSED AWAY SUNDAY

William McCullough Died Sunday Morning—Was Prominently Known in Business and Church Circles.

William C. McCullough, a valued citizen of this city, died at 5:20 o'clock Sunday morning at his residence, 310 East College avenue. Mr. McCullough was a contractor and recently was interested in real estate.

Mr. McCullough was born near Trenton, N. J., Oct. 28, 1856 and came to Morgan county at the age of nineteen, living first in the Riggston community, where he farmed. He was married in 1878 to Miss Christina Floberg.

Always interested in religious and civic moves for the betterment of Jacksonville, Mr. McCullough was one of the first to stand for prohibition and lived to see it passed for the whole country. He was active in church, belonging to Grace M. E., and Y. M. C. A. work, serving for three years as president of the Y. M. C. A. board. McCullough was commissioner of streets for two years. Many important buildings of Jacksonville were built under his direction, including I. W. C. Music Hall, one of the Capps' factory buildings, three buildings at the State hospital, and Grace M. E. church.

Thru his long life here he made a reputation for honesty and character among the many people who knew him.

His widow, one daughter, Lillian Ruth McCullough, one sister, Mrs. Rebecca Baldwin, of Memphis, Tenn., and a half-brother, Robert McCullough, of Carlyle, Ill., survive.

Services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the family residence, 310 East College avenue, with Rev. T. H. Tull officiating. Burial will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

Grace Church Notes

The orchestra had some new additions and as usual rendered some inspiring music. Announcement was made to be given by the school, being the story of the nativity of Christ. "The White Gifts to the King" idea will be carried out with each class of department bringing their gifts to the King. The attendance was 374 and the offering was $14.09. The regular monthly meeting of the officers and teachers will be held Monday evening with luncheon served at 6 o'clock.

The theme of the morning sermon by the pastor was "The Evolution of a Great Sinner." Intermediate league met at 2:30 with Miss Agnes Davis leader. Miss Irene Groves led the Epworth league at 6:30, there being present a large turn out of young people. "The Law of Kindness" was the theme of the evening sermon. The music by the choir was a very high character, being greatly appreciated. Next Sunday the choir will render special Christmas music at both services. In the evening Horatio Parker's beautiful Christmas Cantata, "The Shepherds Vision," will be given.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Pastor's Aid society will be held in the social rooms of the church Wednesday at 3 o'clock. Prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Boy Scout Troops Seven will meet Thursday evening at 7:30.

YOU CAN'T WORK WELL WITH A COLD

Nobody likes to be around a person suffering from a heavy cold. It exposes them needlessly. You can take care of your job and keep business and social engagements shortly after you begin using Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. For it is prompt in helping Nature expel phlegm, allay inflammation, ease breathing, and drive away irritating coughs. Use it—give it to the kiddies. Don't suffer a minute longer than you have to.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL MADE IN PIKE COUNTY

Pittsfield, Dec. 12.—The biggest real estate deal in the county since the recent slump in land values was negotiated between Dr. L. S. Lacy of this city and Virgil Hoover of Milton. In the deal Dr. Lacy sells to Hoover the old William Perry farm (later known as the Fred Sauer farm) between Detroit and Milton, comprising 365 acres; also the old Lacy home place on Bay Creek in Hardin township comprising 200 acres, a total of 565 acres, consideration $45,000. Dr. Lacy takes in part payment Mr. Hoover's home property in Milton together with the Hoover garage which has been operated by Mr. Hoover and his sons. The Hoovers will move from Milton to the Perry farm. It was once famous for its fine apple orchards, from which were marketed many thousands of dollars worth of fruit. The orchard land has been cleared in recent years, but there is still about 40 acres of producing orchard. Herb Bower, who sometime ago was burned out on one of Dr. Lacy's Detroit township farms, lives on the Bay Creek farm involved in the sale. Dr. Lacy in the deal acquires the Milton garage, both building and equipments. Exchange of properties involved in the sale will take place as soon as the right men are found to take charge of the business. Dr. Lacy is not quitting the farm game entirely, as he still has three farms in Pike county totalling over 500 acres.

CARE OF THE FEET

Before going on a trip the careful motorist always looks to the condition of his tires. He knows that when the tires give out his touring is over. The feet are the "tires" of the human body, and therefore it is important that they be kept in the best of condition. Foot trouble not only impairs walking but is also the source of nervousness and actual ill health.

GREATER STRENGTH Fewer Spoonfuls

The value of baking powder is based on its leavening strength. You can't judge it by the size of the can—or by the amount you get for your money. You must estimate it by the amount of baking powder used in each baking and the results you get.

is the greatest value ever offered in Baking Powder—it has greater raising "force"—it goes farther than many of the other brands. You use only a rounded or heaping teaspoonful where many others call for two teaspoonfuls or more.

But Baking Powder is not all you'll save when using Calumet. You save baking materials. Calumet never fails. The last level teaspoonful is as powerful as the first. Calumet is perfectly manufactured—keeps perfectly—and is moderate in price.

You save when you buy it.
You save when you use it.

One trial will satisfy you of these facts—and demonstrate beyond doubt that "Calumet spells economy."

Your grocer sells it on a guarantee of money back if you are not pleased with results.

Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food Authorities.

MERRITT AID GAVE BAZAR

The Ladies' Aid society of Merritt church gave a bazar in the dining room on Dec. 7, which can be counted a success in every particular.

Fancy work aprons, vegetables, delicious home made candy and refreshments of various kinds were sold.

Harry Thompson, wife and father accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Wetzel from Jacksonville and late in the evening he auctioned the articles which had not been sold. Being exceptionally good in this line the articles were readily disposed of and the ladies wish to publicly thank Mr. Thompson for his good work.

Within the last year the ladies had the church redecorated and other needed improvements made and did not have sufficient funds for the work. They have been working very hard all summer to clear the indebtedness and this successful bazar puts them "over the top."

At the regular meeting on Dec. 6 the officers of the past year were re-elected for next year. In appreciation of the co-operation of the community at large the ladies now plan a Christmas social to be given at the church during the holidays which is to be a "tree for all." Watch for the date.

A BAPTIST CANVASS

Can a church be financed without the omnipresent oyster supper and Christmas bazar, is the question now being asked by the pastor of the First Baptist church, Rev. A. P. Howells, in a series of sermons on the subject of "Stewardship." He quotes Billy Sunday as saying, "The less religion a church has, the more oyster soup it takes to run it." Since the purchase of the church parsonage recently, the men of the church are congratulating themselves on how easily it was done. They are coming to believe that the raising of religious finance is a man's job. One business man has asserted that if the Baptist church will drop its suppers and bazars for 1922, he will double his subscription. Others are saying as much. The Southern and Northern Baptists, in a big stewardship campaign now on, are urging the churches to take Martha out of the kitchen and go to tithing.

The Annual Every Member Canvass of the First Baptist church will occur on next Sunday, so G. W. Gard, chairman of the finance committee informed the church on last Sunday. The women have been excused from the canvass teams this year, and fifty men will be asked to report for duty on next Sunday morning.
